Get Started

Welcome to Melody Fuse. Let's get started with getting setup on your Icecast. So, you want to extract the icecast and follow the installer with continue etc until it is all done.

Once Icecast is installed you want to install BUTT on your computer. You follow through the installer like you would any other software.

Next, you want to install the program Visual Audio Cable. You would want to run the installer as an administrator. Once you have installed that you are going to want to restart your device. Once it has restarted we can move on.

Next you would want to install your desired presenting software. Such as Mixxx, SeratoDJ, VirtualDJ, Radio DJ and once that is installed we need to set the audio outputs to the Virtual Audio Cable (Cable-A) for all of them except your mic input etc that is your microphone. And your Monitoring Output is your speaker or headphones.

Once you have done that we want to move over to the BUTT software and open that up. In the settings you want to input these settings:

Server Address	link.zeno.fm
Port	80
Mount Point	fohqqtzdb9ztv
Username	Source
Mount Password	y6Ta2Y9n

Once that is setup you can click save, next you want to proceed and open up your Icecast console and leave that running. Once that is running you can press the Play button on your BUTT and it will connect to the radio presenting server. Once it is connected, play songs and it will go live to the https://melodyfuse.flexagroup.co.uk website. Now you are all set and ready to go.
